

THE DAILY BEE.

Tuesday Morning, June 17.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

—The case against Thos. Carol, charged with assault and battery, was continued in police court yesterday morning.

—The new car track on Ninth street is nearly completed and the work of laying the track on Farnam street will be commenced in a few days.

—The granite paving on Thirteenth street is nearly completed and another day or two's work will finish the asphalt paving on that street.

—The Woman's Christian association will meet this afternoon at 2:30, in their rooms. A full attendance of all interested is requested.

—The drivers of ice wagons should be prohibited from throwing chunks of ice at the horses. Such large and jagged pieces as some of them are in the habit of pelting their horses with cannot come from ice from cruelty to animals.

—If the street commissioner would raise the cross-walk on the north side of Farnam and Nineteenth streets, to the present grade, he would receive the thanks of five hundred people who are compelled to wade that crossing after every rain.

—Charley Mack, conductor on the dummy, train received and news yesterday. A telegram announced the death of his infant child in Iowa, where it was on a visit with its mother. Mr. Mack left for the place yesterday afternoon.

—Captain Treloar, of the cricket club, has received a postal from Captain Cameron, of Lincoln cricket club, stating that he will be in this city today to arrange for a game of cricket on the 24th of July, between the Omaha and Lincoln clubs.

—A fine rain fell yesterday. It washed the dirt from the sides of houses, the pavements, and caused all vegetation to look bright and fresh. It was a welcome visitor, but the contractors in different parts of the city prefer to have it rain nights and Sundays, so that the hired men can rest.

—It is truly wonderful the manner in which the paving business is being rushed along this season, and to all appearances excellent work is being done. At the present rate all the paving laid out for this season will be completed long before frost puts in an appearance.

—In police court yesterday two drunks were each fined $5 and costs and both were sent up. Three vagrants were disposed of as follows: one was discharged, one was sent up on bread and water for fifteen days and the case against the third was continued on account of the illness of the defendant.

—On this evening, 17th inst, there will be a regular meeting of the C. K. of A. at which the semi-annual report of the treasurer and recording secretaries will be submitted to the society. All the members are urged to be in attendance at 8 p. m. in hall at Creighton block.

—While upon Capitol Hill Sunday a reporter stood in close proximity to a lady who was looking out upon the surface of the Missouri river and across to the bluffs on the other side. It did look very hazy and the lady was heard to remark: "It looks awful Hazy. I wonder why it does not begin to look blainey?" The reporter remarked that the democratic convention would assemble in July and Till-den we would wait patiently for the signs.

—Some cowardly soundrels supposed to be bumper printers, had the meanness to throw several rocks through the windows of the Bee news room Sunday evening, the missiles barely missing two or three of the compositors. Two of the parties are known, and as they are notorious boarding house dead-beats, it is supposed their first intention was to commit the lumber yard to sleep, and on seeing the compositors at work in the full glare of light, throw the missiles from the cover of night. Like the cowardly assassin who stalks in the dark, they will not escape with a whole hide the next time should they muster up enough courage to come.

—While down on the bottoms Sunday evening, looking at the river, with a friend, Harry McCloskey, a carpenter was bitten on the calf of the leg by a dog belonging to Mat Davis. He demanded that the dog be killed, when the woman came out with an ax and told him that if he killed the dog she would split his head open. He then came up town and reported the case to the police who told him to go and shoot the dog. He said he didn't feel like getting a revolver to shoot the dog and then pay $10 for carrying concealed weapons. He also said that he asked the marshal where he could find the city physician and that the marshal refused to give him any answer.

—On Saturday afternoon, a man named N. C. Cunningham, entered Barney Shannon's yard and got into an altercation with him. He was forcibly ejected. In about an hour he entered Shannon's saloon with an open knife in his hand and made two or three passes at Shannon, scratching him a couple of times on the breast. Shannon grabbed his hand and prevented him from doing further injury. His bartender then came to Shannon's assistance and Cunningham was given a severe drubbing. He was arrested and taken to jail and yesterday it was reported that his skull was fractured. He lives in Plattsmouth and had in his pocket a certificate of deposit for $40.

UNPRINCIPLED WRETCH.

A. Robier Sells Beer to an Eight Year Old Boy who is Drowned.

Yesterday Coroner Maul held an inquest at Florence upon the remains of James Cowan, an eight year old boy who was drowned in a creek near Florence Sunday afternoon.

At the inquest it was ascertained that a man by the name of A. Robier is running a grog shop in Florence, and that he is unprincipled enough to even sell liquor to boys eight years of age.

Sunday James Cowan deceased, and several companions obtained from Robier several cans full of beer, upon which they became intoxicated. They went in to bathe and young Cowan was so much under the influence of the beer that he was unable to help himself and in that condition was drowned.

The jury found a verdict that James Cowan came to his death by drowning while under the influence of beer, sold by A. Robier. Florence people are very indignant over the affair as they may well be.

ALDERMANIC VIEWS.

The Position Taken By the Various Councilmen

Upon The Suspension or Removal From Office of the Mayor and Marshal.

Since the indictment of Marshal Guthrie and Mayor Chase, the question has been asked repeatedly, "Can the city council remove the chief executive, and if this body has the power, will it do so?" There seems to be a division of opinion upon the first proposition but the great preponderance is that it can be done. When their indictment was first mentioned, but this conclusion instantly vanished upon a close examination of the city charter and the ordinance.

With a view of obtaining the position of the several members of the council upon these propositions a reporter interviewed them upon these subjects yesterday and found them almost unanimous upon the removal of these officials from their present positions, but upon the legal side of the question some were in doubt, others claimed to have no opinion, while some were positive it could be done. Below are given the positions taken by the several councilmen:

MR. ANDERSON.
I am in favor of giving them a fair and impartial trial. If they can be suspended during the pendency of these indictments I am greatly in favor of it. I have not much choice in the matter but I hope the mayor and marshal will be able to prove themselves innocent. If they are guilty I want them to abide the consequences. I want a trial to be had to determine this question. The trial will probably take place in the near future, and I am in favor of letting the district court decide this matter and not bring the question of impeachment before the city council. That body has much to do now and the trial would take weeks and weeks, and this for one reason is why I want the district court to try them.

MR. BECHTEL.
As yet there has been no concerted plan of action adopted by us. I think these officers should be removed but how it can be done I am unable to state. I have consulted able counsel upon the questions which this case presents but as yet have not been given their opinions.

MR. FURAY.
I have not as yet determined what I can or shall do in these premises. When the matter comes before the city council to be acted upon I shall have a decided opinion and have it tremendous hard.

MR. LEEDER.
I am in favor of keeping them in office until they are proven guilty. I am going to sustain a man so long as he is innocent and until they are proven otherwise will endeavor to hold them in office. No marshal that we have had since John Butler's time has done so well or carried out the wishes or resolutions of the council better or stricter.

MR. KAUFMAN.
My opinion is that it will take a dozen Philadelphia lawyers to decide the matter. So far as the suspension of the mayor and marshal is concerned, I have not made up my mind. I have not given the matter any thought. I have been informed by good legal authority that there is no law by which the mayor and marshal may be impeached by the city council. I have openly expressed my opinion that if I were in their places I would resign, or go before the city council and ask to be suspended for the time being.

MR. REDFIELD.
I rather think it ought to be done, but don't think it will be done. There is an ordinance which provides for the manner in which the suspension shall be removed, but it is somewhat vague and uncertain so far as the impeachment of the mayor is concerned. I am in doubt as to what can be done under the ordinance which is very old and antiquated, containing only three sections. The mayor and marshal may have their cases continued to next term, I think it is a duty which the council owes to itself to investigate these charges thoroughly. It is not right that these men should control the municipal affairs with these indictments pending against them. The council will take some decided action in the premises in the near future.

MR. WOODWORTH.
There can be no question upon this matter. There is only one course for the council to pursue. I think they both should ask the council to be relieved.

MR. TERANE.
My individual opinion is that we should suspend the mayor for incapacity. When this is done, we can easily rid ourselves of the marshal. I think we should do all we can to get these men out of office. I should much rather see the mayor resign, but as I am sure that he has refused to do so before the grand jury, and if that be true, we cannot expect him to resign before the city council. Whether they had a speedy trial or not, it is our duty to remove them. We owe the public that much at least. I am in favor of ousting them for all time, whether it be by impeachment or otherwise.

MR. FORD.
I am in favor of impeaching the mayor and the suspension of the marshal. We cannot afford to have men in office under such charges. I am not in favor of this step but want it taken immediately.

MR. HARCALL.
I think this thing has gone so far and steps should be taken to bring about their removal. Our power to remove the mayor has been questioned but if the city charter is closely examined you will find that the council is invested with this authority. I think this removal can be brought about by a simple ordinance only, without even preferring charges against him. The marshal can also be removed but this must be done by impeachment.

MR. BEHM.
This question has come upon me suddenly and I am not fully prepared to say what I shall do. I have employed able counsel to advise me but as yet have not consulted him. I think this matter has gone too far but the plan to pursue is not yet marked out. I am in favor of removal from office if it can be done.

Equalizing the Inequalities.
The board of equalization began its work proper yesterday. For two weeks it has sat hearing only complaints, and and yesterday the commissioners began the work of adjusting the inequalities. The country precincts will be disposed of first. It is the intention of the board to make a personal inspection of all property in the city complained against, in order to pass intelligently upon the complaints. The inequalities in Union, Jefferson, Chicago and Millard precincts were disposed of. But few changes were made. The number of cases in which the assessments were lowered was about equal to the number of those raised. The assessment for the year shows an increase of about 10 per cent over that of 1883.

Misfortunes Never Come Singly.
Joseph Matza, who lives in South Omaha, seems to be the victim of misfortune. About four days ago his little daughter while playing near her father's house was attacked by a neighbor's cow and terribly gored. Had not the neighbors who saw the little girl's danger interfered, the child would undoubtedly have been killed by the enraged beastly doctor was summoned, who dressed the child's wounds, and it is now out of danger.

On Sunday his little son, aged 20 months, was severely scalded, and one time was thought to be in danger. The child is now doing well, and will soon have recovered.

District Court.
In the district court yesterday the case of Redick against the Omaha & Southwestern railway was on trial before Judge Wakeley.

Before Judge Neville the case of Rodia & Thurl against Howell occupied the attention of the court. The grand jury was in session all day but presented no indictments. The keepers of several disorderly houses were witnesses before this body. It is presumed that the case of a certain policeman who has been charged by rumor with receiving money from these disreputable women to escape arrest is being investigated.

Matza Resigns.
Peter Matza, who has been for several years one of Omaha's most efficient members of the police force, yesterday tendered his resignation to the council. Mr. Matza has been afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism for some time past and has been unable to attend to his duties, and for this reason he has determined to leave the employ of the city. He will work again at house painting, his trade.

Appraisers Appointed.
A. R. Souer and G. M. Hitchcock were yesterday appointed appraisers by the county court to assess the damages arising from the condemnation of property for the right of way for the Omaha & Southwestern railroad. They will take the places on this commission of John L. McCague and S. E. Rogers resigned.

A HIGH-TONED THIEF.

A Nephew of Postmaster-General Gresham Arrested for Stealing.

On Saturday evening Sheriff Miller got word that the man who robbed Shaw, the painter of $60, in this city last week, was in Sioux City. Sunday night the sheriff went to Sioux City, and yesterday returned with the prisoner. He said his name was J. M. Gresham and declares that he is a nephew of Postmaster-General Gresham. He does not deny taking the $60, but on the contrary admits he took it. It is a case of grand larceny three can be no alternative but a trip to Lincoln. He had no money when arrested.

A MORNING BLAZE.

One of Judge Neville's Houses Destroyed by Fire.

A Harmless Gasoline Stove Robs D. Mills and His Family of Their Home.

About fifteen minutes past eight yesterday an alarm of fire was turned in from box 61, corner of Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue. The fire department responded promptly and found the blaze to be in a two story frame house, located at the corner of Seventeenth and Dodge streets, owned by Judge Neville and occupied by D. Mills, a conductor on the Union Pacific railroad, and family.

The fire department arrived promptly and in a very short time after the alarm was given all three companies had a stream of water upon the building.

By the time the alarm was turned in the rear portion of the house was enveloped in flames which were rapidly spreading throughout the building. Under direction of Assistant Chief Galligan, the department did efficient work and soon had the fire under control, but on account of the tardiness of the alarm the building was greatly damaged.

The building, which was built over twenty years ago by Governor O. D. Richardson, father of Mr. Lyman Richardson, now owned by Judge Neville. It was valued at $3,000 and was insured for $2,000. The loss to the building will probably reach $1,500.

Mr. Mills and his family had moved into the house about two weeks since and had just gotten nicely settled. A great deal of their furniture was totally destroyed and the loss to the family was very heavy. Besides the loss of the furniture nearly all the wearing apparel belonging to the family was lost.

THE ORIGIN OF THE FIRE.
The servant girl stated that the gasoline stove used in the kitchen, exploded and in an instant the entire room was in flames. After the fire was extinguished, the stove, in a demoralized condition, was seen where it had been standing and beside it on the floor was a can containing gasoline and the supposition is that the servant girl must have attempted to fill the reservoir of the stove without extinguishing the burners. The flames ignited the gasoline causing the explosion and fire.

Mrs. Mills, the lady of the house, said she was in the front room sewing, and when her attention was called to the fire she rushed back into the dining room and found it filled with flames and smoke. Her hair and face were badly burned before she could retreat. A young lady who was visiting with Mrs. Mills was also severely burned about the face and hands and her hair was badly singed.

A young man escaped from the building at a late hour, with a satchel which contained some money and other valuables. He was nearly drowned by the stream of water from the hose before he could make his exit.

A SENSATIONAL FEATURE.
When the fire was hottest and the smoke was thickest, a man rushed into the yard and cried out to the firemen that the lady of the house had been seen to enter the burning building in search of some valuables and had not since been seen. In a moment a half dozen brave hearts and hands belonging to as many different fire ladders rushed into the jaws of death, to save an unfortunate one, if such an one there was. A search through the various rooms failed to find any inanimate form, overcome by the smoke, or any charred or blackened remains.

About this time it was announced that the lady was safely housed in the home of Dr. Amelia Burroughs, and all breathed easier on that score.

It was a hot fire and but for the great efforts of the fire department the building would have been burned to the ground.

COLORADO BUSINESS.

A Few Points on the Business Outlook of That State.

Mr. W. O. Taylor, Superintendent of the Bradstreet company at this place, returned yesterday from a trip through Colorado. Mr. Taylor was seen by a Bee reporter and he reports business up through Colorado as being very dull and says that all the merchants are complaining a great deal.

In Denver he looked into the real estate business quite thoroughly and found that it was just holding its own, and that the merchants in that city do not talk with that degree of certainty with which they do in this city.

At Leadville, Mr. Taylor says, that the vote taken this spring shows a decrease in the population of that place from five to six thousand during the past year. The railroad is looking for a large tourist business but the inhabitants of the small towns are feeling very blue.

On Friday the superintendent of the Colorado Central road took Mr. Taylor and a party of friends upon a little excursion. They went to Georgetown and from there they were taken up a new trail. He was looking for a large tourist business but the inhabitants of the small towns are feeling very blue. They were taken up a new trail. He was looking for a large tourist business but the inhabitants of the small towns are feeling very blue.

As a rule, have the reputation of imposing on the credulity of the public in the shape of adroitly concocted advertisements, and other devices to catch the eyes of those who are suffering. This remedy is manufactured at Atlanta, Ga., and in our treatise on Blood and skin diseases we give the endorsement of many of the prominent people of our City and State.
